Welcome to inlingua Vancouver!

inlingua Vancouver

inlingua Vancouver is a member of inlingua International - one of the world's leading language training organizations with 345 Language Centers in 44 countries across Europe, Africa, Asia, North and South America.

Millions of private persons and employees of large and small companies, institutions and government offices have benefited from the inlingua method of language training.

Highly qualified native speakers provide language and communication training with the help of teaching materials pecially developed by inlingua.

Founded in Bern, Switzerland in 1968, inlingua is known worldwide for excellence. Exclusive inlingua materials combined with the 'inlingua method' ensure your success.

The inlingua method

Qualified teaching staff uses the inlingua method for their communicative language training. The inlingua method is based on decades of experience and is improved continuously. All teachers have been trained to use the universal inlingua method. They build their course program on the basis of standardized teaching techniques and teaching material and tools developed for these courses and structured for internationally recognized proficiency levels.

Striking examples and hands-on language use are preferred over dull theory. Your knowledge is verified regularly to adapt training to individual needs.

The proven inlingua method uses a dynamic and practical approach to learning English – an approach that focuses on the functional aspects of the English language, not the dry, technical details. Rather than memorizing long lists of vocabulary words or reverting to word-for-word translation, you will gain skills in practical, real-world situations and be personally coached on accuracy, fluency, and pronunciation.

Our method encourages you to have fun and experiment with the use of English, so that you can figure out its patterns for yourself and progress quickly in your proficiency. We also make sure that speaking, listening, writing, and reading skills are integrated into our technique so that you end up with a natural, organic feel for the language as a whole. Our teachers include all the subtle but critical nuances such as culture, etiquette, and appropriateness in every lesson plan.

The inlingua Method

VANCOUVER - Speak English Now!

1. The teacher conducts the lesson in the target language only. The student should start thinking in the target language as soon as possible. Translation confuses and wastes time.

2. The teacher gives the learner the opportunity to speak as much as possible during the lesson. The only way in which the student will learn to speak a language is by speaking it, just as one learns to play golf by hitting a golf ball with a golf club.

3. The teacher conducts the greater part of the lesson orally, with the book closed. It is a fact that a language is learned by using and hearing it, therefore, the student should be less reliant on his eyes during the lessons.

4. The teacher concentrates more on teaching structures (i.e. how words are put together) than on teaching individual words. Language is not a collection of words, but a system of word combinations.

5. The teacher controls his/her teaching in such a way that most of the sentences produced by the learner are correct.

6. The teacher diagnosis the extent of the learner's knowledge before supplying a model or providing a solution him/herself. The teacher should build on the student's knowledge and fill in gaps as soon as possible.

7. The teacher keeps theoretical explanations to a minimum. In order to drive a car it is not necessary to know how the engine works. The student should be able to induce a rule from example.

8. The teacher encourages the learner to play a creative role in the learning process. In order for the student to be constructive and creative in his use of the target language, he must experiment. It is impossible to memorize a number of sentences which he thinks he will need one day.

9. The teacher observes the principles of applied psychology. The goal of the inlingua method is to make language learning as sufficient and pleasant as possible. The method is flexible to give the teacher the possibility to adapt his approach to the individual requirements to the student. Factors such as linguistic talent, motivation, openness and cultural particularities have to be considered.

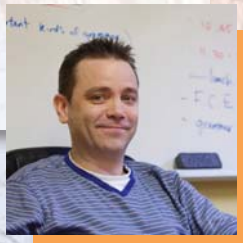

10. A structural approach to language learning is one which places the main emphasis on learning the structures of grammatical items of a language. The functional approach emphasizes learning how to express oneself in situations which occur in everyday life. The most efficient teaching method is the combination of both approaches. The inlingua method teaches structure on the basis of functional situations.

"2A is a great level to get you speaking about both past, and future. I also teach Listening and several other kinds of classes, like Current Affairs. I love playing the guitar, and I often teach and play with students. I'm looking forward to meeting you if you come to inlingua Vancouver!"

- Teacher, Troy Greenall 2A

"The whole experience has probably been one or if not the best time of my life. Since coming to inlingua Vancouver, the variety of students from all over the world has lead to friendships I'll keep forever. The daily activities after classes, the trips that the school has held, the atmosphere amongst students, teachers, and staff; not to mention the awesome city of Vancouver where you can not get bored, are just some of the reasons why this has been one of the greatest experiences ever."

- Luis Orlando Ruiz, MEXICO

Our Gastown Campus was built thinking about students' comfort. Located close to the Waterfront SkyTrain and SeaBus stations on beautiful Water Street, this campus is just perfect.

With 16 classrooms and a large student lounge, our beginner and intermediate students enjoy a wonderful campus that looks very modern. Our classrooms are spacious, with windows and ocean views, comfortable furniture and all the equipment needed for teaching English. One of the classrooms is a computer lab with 15 computers. There is also wireless internet service throughout the 3 storey campus.

Our student lounge features a projection TV for our daily movies, a stereo system to play music during the lunch break, 10 microwaves, 10 computers and seating capacity for 100 students to have lunch and socialize with their friends. In this multi-use space, we also hold orientations for new students, graduation ceremonies and various social events.

"The University Preparation Course has been designed with the aim of enabling English as a Second Language students to succeed in the competitive environment of post secondary institutions in North America. The course provides development for students in key critical thinking and analytic skills as well as creative processes necessary to excel in academics. Our experienced teaching staff has extensive expertise in not only academic reading and writing but also in academic vocabulary and grammar skills. The course consists of intensive reading assignments, a thorough analysis and practice of various essay styles, a novel study, perfecting oral presentations and learning effective research methods. The UPC course runs for 12 weeks and each term focuses on a new set of skills, allowing students to continue to build up their academic abilities."

- Teacher, Jacob Pej

Granville Campus is located near the corner of Granville and Robson Street. Our campus has an excellent location in the heart of the bustling shopping and entertainment district, and very close to the Granville SkyTrain station. With 14 classrooms and two nice student lounges, our upper intermediate and advanced students enjoy a traditional campus with a heritage look reflected in its brick walls, wood flooring, and soft wall colours.

BEGINNER	1A	1B
LOWER INTERMEDIATE	2A	2B
UPPER INTERMEDIATE	3A	3B
ADVANCED	4A	4B
ADVANCED PLUS	5A	5B

At inlingua Vancouver, we use a special teaching technique called the inlingua method. The method allows each student to speak English, practice using the language and progress quickly. Our educational materials, produced by inlingua International, are designed to complement this method. The combination of inlingua books and the inlingua method is an effective way of learning to speak English. In addition, you will be improving your grammar, pronunciation, reading, writing, and vocabulary skills. You will become accurate, fluent and confident in your English ability. Classes are fun, dynamic and interactive.

Levels 1A and 1B are from 9 AM to 2:30 PM. In this way, we make sure students cover all the key points, grammatical structures, vocabulary and the basic skills to move to higher levels.
The elective lessons are introduced gradually. The higher the level, the more time is devoted to the elective lessons. The lower the level, the more time is devoted to learning the foundation skills in general ESL levels.

All classes finish at noon on Fridays to allow the teachers prepare for their classes more efficiently. Students can join PDFs (Personal Development Fridays) or other activities to practice their English.

Elective Lessons

Elective lessons are subject to change.*

Speaking & Listening This class has a strong focus on speaking using various topics and materials that engage students in discussion, stating opinions, agreeing & disagreeing and describing, using task vocabulary related to the topic. Topics will be presented through different listening resources such as TV shows, films, internet and/or audio CD's. Students will work on developing active listening skills and how to start, continue and end a conversation.

Developing Writing Skills Writing in English is just as important as being able to speak in English. Students who need to improve their writing skills will practice many different aspects of writing in this class. From sentence structure to paragraphs to short essays, students will learn about the proper structure of both informal and formal writing. This is an excellent class to take if students are later interested in studying any of the exam courses - IELTS, TOEFL, Cambridge FCE or CAE - Business English or the UPC course.

Brush Up This class is for students who have a reasonable knowledge of English, but who need to review selected basic structures. The course provides concise review of essential language from Level 1A-2A of inlingua's general and professional programs. A strong grammar focus is included in the course using various themes and topics in which to apply different grammar tenses and refreshing such functional skills as meeting people, planning a trip, making arrangements, predictions and decision-making.

Amazing Listening This class is about putting your skills to the test. This class uses music, videos, TV shows and other realia to challenge student's listening abilities and stimulate conversation. The class helps students cope with real life situations where they will not get more than two or three chances to listen and understand. Over the term, the pace of speech students listen to will increase as the listening materials begin to increase in difficulty.

Slang & Idioms Expressions used in spoken English can sometimes have a very different meaning from what it seems. However, they are used every day in informal and casual situations. Understanding and knowing when to use them will help students sound more like native speakers. Idioms are a very important part of the English language, especially in social settings. This class covers both slang and idioms that are useful when communicating with English speakers and help to understand movies, television shows and music. You will learn and use new idioms and slang in conversations and discussions.

Grammar Plus This course teaches / refreshes basic English skills. Learners with basic knowledge in English are able to learn / review basic grammatical structures and basic vocabulary. These areas have often become passive and can be activated and practiced in this class. Do a lot of practice exercises plus use the new grammar to speak about interesting and exciting things. Join this class if you want to speak English correctly and fluently.

Discussions & Debates Interested in what's happening in the world today? Do you follow the news, read the newspaper, check the internet for the latest stories in your country and around the world? This class focuses on using current event topics to engage students in discussions and debates. Students will learn new vocabulary related to the topics and be able to practice different ways of expressing their thoughts, ideas, opinions as well as agreeing or disagreeing. This class provides the next step in communication skills and is an excellent class to take if students wish to take any of the exam courses - IELTS, TOEFL, Cambridge FCE or CAE - Business English or the UPC course.

Academic Reading & Writing I This course is designed to give students the skills they require to express themselves formally and prepare for future academic studies, work in Canada or life abroad. Students learn to skim materials, increase their active vocabulary and improve their comprehension of written materials. The course also provides students with the tools to move from simple sentence structure to forming paragraphs. Students are introduced to literature from a variety of sources including magazines, editorials, internet, textbooks and short stories. Students also have opportunities to engage in discussions and experiment with new vocabulary and express themselves orally as Pronunciation Do you want to sound like a native? This class will correct your pronunciation of both vowels and consonants in English, and also teach you the rhythm and stress in words and sentences. Students will learn basic rhythm rules, weak sounds, linking, special intonation, and the proper use of contractions. Classes include reading out loud to isolate and practice problem sounds.

Fluency & Accuracy I Students will improve their communication and language skills through discussions, relative vocabulary building, consistent error correction and literature. This is achieved through an extensive amount of group and pair work in which students are encouraged to share their opinions and expand their vocabulary. It includes grammar practice and targets all of the common problems students face when trying to communicate effectively. Students also do listening exercises where they will be put in groups to answer questions, learn new vocabulary and problem solve. Students are often expected to do the short readings or written assignments for homework.

Academic English I A challenging course that is designed to improve your reading comprehension and academic writing skills. There is a strong focus on vocabulary and structure through reading / writing tests taken from a variety of sources including SAT, TOEFL and IELTS. The students are provided with the necessary skill sets to undertake challenging readings and express complex ideas in writing and speaking. This course is ideal for anyone taking a standardized test, planning to live or work in Canada, or for those planning to pursue post-secondary education in an English-speaking University or College.

Academic Reading & Writing II This course is designed to give students the skills they require to express themselves formally and prepare for future academic studies, work in Canada or life abroad. Students learn to skim materials, increase their active vocabulary and improve their comprehension of written materials. The course also provides students with the tools to move from simple sentence structure to forming paragraphs. Students are introduced to literature from a variety of sources including magazines, editorials, internet, textbooks and short stories. Students also have opportunities to engage in discussions based on the chosen literature which allows them to experiment with new Fluency & Accuracy II A continuation of Fluency & Accuracy I, this class provides students at the advanced levels with the opportunity to take their communication abilities to the highest level. Focusing on current, "in-the-now" topics such as world news, politics, future innovations and more, students will learn new vocabulary, complex grammar structures and proficient communication skills using materials such as magazine articles, newspapers and internet news videos.

Speaking & Listening Students will focus more specifically on speaking and listening skills as well as incorporate new vocabulary. They will build their communication skills for the real-world through a variety of exercises including free-style discussion, guided discussions, error correction, sentence structure, and using vocabulary in context. Students will also further develop their listening skills through the use of recordings, videos, songs, and movies.

English for Work This program is for all students in our study and work programs - DIY, CWE, CDP, CPP, SIP. It covers very well the customer service industry. Topics covered in class: Resume Writing, Interview skills, Dealing with customer complaints, Role plays, How to offer extra service to customers and make more tips, Make small talk, Offer information regarding products/ingredients, Make recommendations, Introduction to fair labour practices and employee rights. The instructor will also provide tips about Vancouver's employment opportunities.

Academic English This course has been designed for high intermediate to advanced students who are hoping to become more fluent and comfortable speaking about current issues in English. The primary focus is on vocabulary, short readings and discussions. Through web-based media, newspapers and television, students will improve both their reading comprehension skills as well as their oral communications skills in an interactive environment.

Semi Private Lessons In small groups of 2 to 6 students, students review grammar and vocabulary that they have already been introduced to and some new ideas. These lessons contain a specific topic or focus as well as specific vocabulary and grammar structures but are not as structured as the inlingua morning lessons. Various materials and approaches are used to promote participation and improvement. These lessons provide a more relaxed environment and students can receive more attention from the teacher.

inlingua Online Learning - iOL iOL - inlingua Online Learning is a flexible system that complements inlingua regular lessons. Students can use the system at their own pace and contact the online teacher for support. It includes a wide range of grammar, reading and listening exercises. Students can check their answers automatically. Students can use inlingua online Learning software from any computer, tablet or smart phone at any time.

Study and Work Programs

inlingua®
VANCOUVER - Speak English Now!

Notes: Some of the work programs might be subject to changes in the ISP International Study Program. Program details and visa requirements for participants will be confirmed at time of registration.

Career Development Program (CDP)

This is an ideal program for professionals who want to practice their English in the professional Canadian labour market. 5 areas are possible: Office Administration / General Marketing / Hospitality Management / Engineering (Electrical, electronic and mechanical engineering) / Information Technology.

Student Internship Program (SIP)

This is unpaid, professional-level internship. The program offered to international students is the same offered to Canadian university students. The internships are possible in many professional areas, except those regulated by licences (medicine, law among others). It is ideal for professionals who want to practice their English and learn about the professional labour market in Canada, and don't have as much time available, or their profession is not in the list for the CDP Career Development Program.

Voluntern

This is a volunteer work placement program in Canada for international students. The placements will be in the areas of wildlife, environment, conservation and community services, based on your interests, education, experience and language skills. You will need to obtain a C50 (charity visa) for this administrative volunteer placement program. In this program you will gain valuable Canadian work experience, practice your English in a professional environment, and be actively involved in making the world a better place!

Farmstay

Few Canadians, let alone people from abroad, see the countryside, and experience farm life. Experience Education's Farmstay Program gives international students the opportunity to do this, and to get a 'natural' Canadian experience.

In Farmstay, students are placed for 1-4 weeks at a farm in the wilderness of BC, Alberta, Ontario, or Quebec. There, they live with a family and assist in the day to day upkeep of their family farm. Students see the great outdoors, get up close and personal with animals, and try Canadian food, fresh out of the ground.

Farmstay like all experiential programs, gives students an added opportunity to practice their English in a real social context. This has been shown to be the best way to increase language fluency, and prepare students for future work in English.

UPP University Pathway Program

The inlingua Experience
Student Testimonies

inlingua®
VANCOUVER - Speak English Now!

"I studied at inlingua for 3 months. I had an excellent time there, had lots of fun and participated in many school activities. The teachers, staff and students were great. I met a lot of people from all over the world and made many new friends. Not only did I have fun, but also I improved my English that enabled me to get a dream job in New York City as a Service Engineer. Thank you inlingua"

- Flavio Feuerstein, SWITZERLAND

inlingua Success Stories...

"It's hard to explain how fantastic time I had in inlingua Vancouver. My English improved a lot. Plus, I met many nice friends who I still keep in touch with. Since I came back to my country, I got a job in a trading company. It's been almost a year in my company, and I have been doing very well. I have no problem having a meeting with foreigners, making contracts and doing important tasks. Still I have to study more and I will achieve more. But I think my first step was pretty good and without staying in inlingua, I don't think I'd have made it. inlingua makes you speak English. Once you get confidence, then your English will boost up. That's what I experienced. If my best friend asks me which institute is a perfect place to improve his or her English, then I would strongly suggest inlingua Vancouver without any hesitation."

- Kunmoo Ko, KOREA

"I'm working as a secretary assistant and an adviser for young people who are planning to come to Canada. I've had a great experience and got new dreams at inlingua. English is still a part of me. It's very important for me to keep on moving onward to my new dreams."

- Emi Igarashi, JAPAN

"inlingua has been a great experience for me because the classes and the teachers are very interesting and fun. In addition, I have met awesome people from different countries and we have done great activities together. I know I will never forget the time I have spent at inlingua!!!"

- Daniela Buitrago C., COLOMBIA

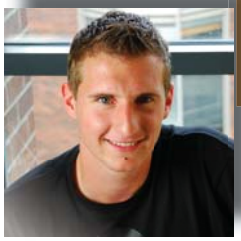

"This has been an incredible experience, once in a lifetime. I applied for an Internship program and it was the right decision, my English has improved a lot since I got here. I have met a lot of people from different countries and I got an amazing job with responsibilities and I have learned a lot. But the most important thing is that I started out with teachers, now I have friends, that has helped me. They give me their support and their friendship, and this is going to help me through my future life."

- Carlos Romero, MEXICO

"I really enjoyed my time in Vancouver. The weather is pretty good in the summer. Moreover, I like the mix of beaches and mountains. Studying at inlingua was quite a good experience, and I reckon that being one of the only French speaking students, it helped me to learn faster. I also enjoyed playing with the inlingua soccer team and hanging out with my new friends in Vancouver."

- Christophe Mohr, FRANCE

"I had a great time at inlingua Vancouver. The most important thing which separates inlingua from the other schools is their education system forcing students to 'speak only English' everywhere in the school and where the school activities were facilitated. I improved my English skills remarkably. Besides, I made a lot of friends from all over the world. Teachers' friendliness made my life in Vancouver easier. I'm still in touch with my teachers. While saying something about inlingua, Vancouver's beauty shouldn't be forgotten. It deserves to be seen at least once in a lifetime. My Career Development Program (CDP) covered 6 months of English courses and 6 months of a paid professional internship. I studied first, then I did my internship in a real Canadian company and I am leaving very satisfied."

- Yasin Malli, TURKEY

Katrin Lohuaru was born and grew up in East Vancouver. She has a degree in Human Geography and Environmental Studies. She's been to Ireland, France, Poland & Thailand, and visited family in Estonia. She has a passion for singing and photography, and her dream is to become fluent in seven languages. Her dramatic and spontaneous style brings the grammar to life.

- Teacher, Katrin Lohuaru

"I like their style in teaching and they have employees with high efficiency. I have recommended inlingua to my friends, and now they are satisfied. The best activities were the activities at the end of each session ex. barbecue on the beach, tour in the city, parties, besides daily activities I have learned English skills in short time. Inlingua is distinctive from other schools because they have a competent staff and very useful curriculum. Some of my friends were students at inlingua and they recommended it to me, and I read about it on the internet and now I am satisfied with my experience at Inlingua School. I would recommend the school to others."

Accommodation

Options

- Homestay (2 or 3 meal option)
- Rooming (no meals)
- Student Houses (dormitory, no meals)

- Private Room / Shared Washroom / Laundry / Optional Airport Pick up / Drop off
- Upgrades subject to availability: Private bathroom, TV in the room, Zone 1 (closer to school)
- Shared Rooms available upon request

One of the most important aspects of your study abroad experience is where you live.

At inlingua Vancouver, we offer three accommodation options: Homestay (full-board or half-board), Rooming (no meals), and Student House. Students are placed with Canadian host families whose official language is English. Homes are no more than 45 minutes from the school and located along major transportation lines.

We only work with Homestay families who have been carefully selected after meeting our strict criteria. According to the information that is provided on your application form, you will be matched with a family and will receive information about them a few weeks before you arrive.

We can also offer accommodation in our inlingua Student Houses.

Shared Rooms in student houses / dormitories located in zone 1, around 30 minutes from downtown Vancouver. This is a good option for independent students who want to live with other international students from inlingua, know how to cook, understand the rules and limitations of sharing a space with others and are over 19 years old. This option does not include meals/board. Students must make a budget for food preparation and eating out in restaurants. Availability is limited.

Our student houses accommodate 8 to 15 international students attending inlingua. This type of accommodation is not available for couples. Once students graduate from inlingua must move out of the student house.
